

Next-gen cybersecurity designed explicitly for Connected Devices and Critical Infrastructure in the Internet of Things

Software Defined Perimeter (SDP) architecture renders critical infrastructure and IoT gateways invisible to attackers; while customized agents along with Blockchain and TLS technology delivers a new breed of digital identity and access control for connected devices

A Zero Trust setup allows for precision access and micro-segmentation of connected devices